ABOUT US

For over four decades, the Richmond Food Bank Society (RFBS) has been serving Richmond residents struggling with food insecurity. As a registered charity, our mission is clear: to provide food assistance, advocacy, and related support to community members in need, and in doing so, build a Richmond where no one goes hungry.

AN INCREASED NEED

The need for food assistance rose by 56% compared to pre-pandemic levels. This increased need, fueled by the high cost of renting, rising food prices, and persistently low incomes, continue to drive up the demand for our services.

We are incredibly grateful for the hard work of all our volunteers and the generous support of individuals, local businesses, and community organizations for helping us meet the increased need.

FOOD PANTRY LAUNCH

One of our proud initiatives during our 40th year of operation was the launch of an after-hours, publicly accessible food pantry at our well attended Open House.

This initiative expands our reach and offers a dignified access to food for our neighbours in need.

GROCERY DISTRIBUTION

We provide a variety of fresh and nonperishable groceries to our clients each week at four Richmond locations. With the increasing number of seniors accessing our services, we launched a Seniors Only distribution on Thursdays.

We also deliver grocery hampers to chronically ill or homebound individuals through our Home Delivery program.

I was a Food Bank client when I first came to Canada, and was grateful to receive lots of kindness and support. I want to give back and help others in similar situations! - REBS Volunteer

SCHOOL MEAL PROGRAM

To help at-risk students focus better in school, we partnered with the Richmond School District and supported 24 studentserving food programs with breakfast, snack bags, and lunches.

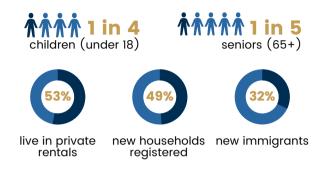

FOOD RECOVERY PROGRAM

With a robust food recovery program including our industry, community, retail, wholesale, and farm partners, we are able to recover and share an equivalent of 1.2 million meals with our clients and community partners.
